

the mit entrepreneurs club presents

B O S T O N
barcamp2
the *un*Conference for geeks

March 17-18

MIT Stata Center

32 Vassar Street, Cambridge

Free Admission

BarCamp* is an unconference, organized on the fly by attendees.

You can participate in discussions, demo your projects, or create your own event on topics such as open source software, startups, UI design, entrepreneurship, AJAX, hardware hacking, robotics, mobile computing, bioinformatics, RSS, social software, programming languages, the future of technology.

Give a talk. Listen to one. Learn cool stuff. Enjoy good food. Enter the programming contest (grand prize: helicopter rides with Phil Greenspun). And... Have fun!
